Bannister assessment suit dismissed on technicality

By RICH ADAMS
Glynn and Patricia Brown Bannister have filed a motion in Hancock County Circuit Court requesting a new trial in a suit against the Hancock County Board of Supervisors in which Bannister objects to ad valorem assessment on his Bay St. Louis property.

Bannister claims his property taxes are not equal to those of property owners with houses of equal value, and has waged a court battle against the county and the city since July, 1978. Bannisters first suit against the supervisors, filed on Aug. 10, 1978, has been dismissed by Circuit Court Judge Rubel Griffin because the judge said the suit was filed improperly.

In a lengthy report of the court's findings, the judge indicates he feels the Bannisters have grounds for a case.

In passing, the Court observes that in all probability the candid testimony of Mr. (George) Heitzmann, the former long-time Tax Assessor, does make out a prima-facie (at first sight) case for relief, but still, nevertheless, following the long pronounced rules applicable to appeals, the Court is without jurisdiction to grant the same," Griffin states.

During court proceedings in October, Heitzmann said a reassessment of all property to equalize taxes is necessary. Bannister said Friday his attorney, William Frisbie, filed for a new trial.

Circuit Court Deputy Clerk Carolyn Ring said Frisbie filed a motion for a new trial Thursday with Judge Griffin, but added no action has been taken.

Also in his report, Judge Griffin points out faults which caused the dismissal of the initial suit. During the court proceedings, the supervisors objected on the grounds that the appeal was not filed in accordance with state law.

Griffin did not overrule the objection, but hear the case "on its merits on the condition that all objections would be considered before a ruling on the merits."

Frisbie had filed a Bill of Exceptions, and Griffin said that also was improper in the individual case.

Quoting state law, Griffin explains in his report that the law "does provide for an appeal from orders of the Boards of Supervisors and municipal

Council 'work session' produces Bay trustee

By EDGAR PEREZ
Bay St. Louis druggist Donald Favre apparently with the support of Superintendent of Schools J. D. McCulloch, is slated to be named by the City Council Tuesday to replace banker Robert Hamilton on the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board.

The Echo learned this week Favre was selected by the Council at a so-called "work session" February 1 from among three candidates submitted by Mayor Larry Bennett.

Also considered at the closed-door meeting for the school board position were former board members William Breland and Charles Thomas.

Breland is a vice president of Merchants Bank and Trust Company stationed at the bank's Waveland office on Coleman Avenue. Thomas is staff pharmacist for Hancock General Hospital.

Favre is proprietor of Fahey Drug Co. on Railroad Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

The Bay St. Louis City Council meets privately on the Thursday preceding its regular Tuesday meetings to avoid public scrutiny of the discussion of public matters which are then handled perfunctorily at the official meetings.

According to Echo sources, Favre was initially contacted about serving on the school board by McCulloch, and later by a city councilman.

Supporters of the Favre selection have termed him a "young man and a new face" on the board. In spite of the Council's predetermined position on replacing Hamilton who has asked not to be reappointed to the slot on the board he has held for some 20 years, sources report a movement continues in support of James Ginn to fill the Hamilton vacancy. Ginn is manager of the Hancock Bank's US-60 branch in Bay St. Louis.

MRS. LINDA PENROSE

Penrose candidacy announced

Mrs. Linda Penrose, a long-time Hancock County resident, mother, and legal secretary, has announced her candidacy for Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District.

Voters within the Waveland city limits and those outside the Bay St. Louis and Waveland city limits but within the boundaries of the school district will vote Saturday, March 3 to fill the remaining one-year term vacated by Jean Townsend.

Mrs. Townsend's term is currently being filled on an interim basis by Dr. John Levens.

Mrs. Penrose has lived in the Bay-Waveland area for 26 years, and has been employed in this area for 13 years.

She attended school in the Bay St. Louis System, and graduated from Bay Senior High in 1965. Upon graduation, she was a nine-year member of the 4-H Club, recipient of the Danforth 'I Dare You' Award from 4H, secretary of Future Homemakers of America, member of the National Honor Society, and manager and member of the Bay High Band.

She has been employed by the Hancock County Tax Collector preparing tax reports, the Diamondhead Corporation's Comptroller's Office, and as a legal secretary for the law offices of

'Jaws' free Hwy. 603 truck collision victim

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
The Jaws of Life, an emergency rescue tool on loan to the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, was used for the second time this year by the department Monday to free a trapped victim from a Hwy. 603 vehicle accident.

Police said Cheryl Lee, 33, accompanied by 76-year-old A. J. Cuevas Sr., was driving a 1979 Ford truck south on Hwy. 603 when her truck was struck by a Mack transport truck traveling east on Texas Flat Road Monday afternoon.

The Ford truck was spun around and knocked onto the shoulder of the highway, reported Mississippi Highway Patrolman Hershel Ladner.

Cuevas was taken by Mobile Medic to Hancock General Hospital with unconfirmed injuries. He was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday, the hospital reported.

No other injuries were reported in connection with the accident, police said.

Leonard Farmer, 22, of Southern Trucking in Gulfport was charged with failure to yield right of way, Officer Ladner said.

Fireman Mike Willumits said the Jaws of Life was used to remove the right front door from the Ford truck to aid medical technicians in assisting Cuevas.

He sustained a fractured rib and was reported in good condition by the Hospital Wednesday.

Bomb scare brings evacuation

By RICH ADAMS
Classes at Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis were interrupted Monday as that school became the most recent victim in a rash of bomb scares which has recently plagued the Gulf Coast.

OIA Principal Mike Ryan said he received a call from a "young white male, probably between 17-20 years old" at 12:20 p.m. Monday, the caller informing Ryan that a bomb was inside the school and would go off at 1:30 p.m. Ryan ordered the school evacuated, and Bay St. Louis Police and Fire departments were called to the scene. After a complete search of the school, with the aid of a newly acquired police dog, officials ordered students to return to classes after a 25 minute interruption.

Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams said his office plans to "prosecute to the fullest" anyone "discovered" making bomb scare calls.

Williams emphasized that his department will monitor all incoming telephone calls, and will attempt to trace pranksters.

Junior High ceiling repair costs less than estimated

By RICH ADAMS
The cost of repairs and renovations at Bay St. Louis Junior High School will be some $25,000 less than what was originally estimated as bids were opened on the project Monday.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board Monday accepted a bid from McClendon Building Service of Gulfport, which said it will do the job at the Junior High School for $90,400 with an estimated completion time of 100 days.

The repair work is needed after one ceiling collapsed on students as they fled from a classroom on Jan. 10.

Building officials then inspected the school and estimated the cost of tearing out all plaster ceilings, rewiring electrical circuits, and installing a suspended ceiling would be approximately $106,000.

McClendon said it will do all phases of the project—demolition, installation of suspended ceilings, all electrical work, and installation of new doors—for $90,400.

Other bids received on the project were: Roy Anderson Jr., a Gulfport contractor, $106,870 with a completion time of 180 days; Deco Construction Company, also of Gulfport, $131,540 with 130 days required; George P. Hopkins of Gulfport, $97,500 with 150 days required; and McClendon, who received the job.

The Board voted unanimously to accept the bid from McClendon, and Architect Fred Wagner said he will prepare a contract for presentation to the Educational Finance Commission Monday for funds.

"We have every indication (the EFC) will approve the bid," Wagner told the Board.

Wagner informed the Board he will charge seven percent of the $90,400 in fees, in addition to $4,200 in fees already owed for his survey and recommendations on the Junior High.

In other action at Monday's meeting the Board went into a five-minute executive session prior to approving the monthly docket to discuss "financial matters."

Bank names veeeps

W. E. (BILL) BRELAND

Merchants Bank and Trust Co. has promoted two Bay St. Louis residents to vice presidents of the financial institution.

William E. (Bill) Breland, a 20-year Merchant's veteran, and Henry Monti, employed with the bank some 17 years, were named to their new posts by the Merchant's board of directors.

The two will remain in their current operating positions, according to W. R. Allison, bank president.

Breland is manager of the bank's Waveland office on Coleman Avenue, and Monti has served as manager of the Bay St. Louis branch on South Beach Boulevard for the past ten years.

Breland has managed the Waveland office of Merchants Bank since it opened in 1968.

He is a native of Bay Saint Louis and graduated from Bay High School, Pearl River Junior College and attended The University of Southern Mississippi.

Bill was charter member and past president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees; Mississippi Jaycee Outstanding Young Man in 1970; and recognized as one of the outstanding Jaycees in America in 1971.

HENRY MONTI

Breland served 10 years on the Bay-Waveland City School Board and as president for 2 years.

He is a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, president of the Bay High Booster Club and is active in the Babe Ruth American Legion baseball program.

He is married to the former Noleen Ladner, they have four sons and a daughter and are members of the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis.

Henry Monti joined Merchants Bank in 1961 after working four years with the Federal Reserve Bank in New Orleans.

He, like Breland, is a Bay Saint Louis native and graduate of Bay Saint Louis High School.

Monti is past president of the Saint Stanislaus Sideline Club, past member of the Bay Saint Louis Jaycees and member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

He is married to the former Carol Sue Banderet. They have one son and five daughters. The Montis attend Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

She is currently employed by Attorney Lucien M. Gex Jr. of Waveland.

Mrs. Penrose is married to Norvin H. Penrose, lifelong Waveland resident and employee of Chevron, Inc.

She is the mother of four children, Michele, a seventh grade student at Bay Jr. High; Joseph, a fifth grade student; Mary Catherine, three-years-old; and eight-month-old Helen.

Mrs. Penrose is a member of Christ Episcopal Church, the National Association of Legal Secretaries (International), and Harrison-Hancock Legal Secretaries Association.

She has been a notary in Hancock County for the past eight years, and has eight years of legal secretarial experience.

"My main objective in running for the school board is to see that the needs of the children come first and that hard-earned tax dollars are wisely spent," Mrs. Penrose said.

"I hope people see how important this election is and turn out to vote," she added.

Police shadow street lights

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Numerous complaints from the residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland about street lights being shot out have police going extra duty trying to catch the culprits.

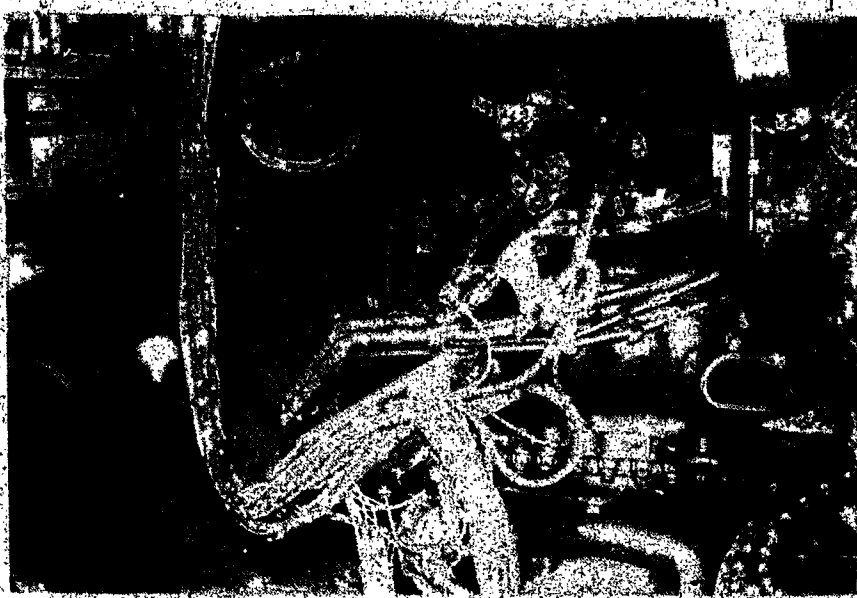

Perry Gibson, manager for Mississippi Power Company, said Wednesday, "Mississippi Power Company is doing its best in trying to give good service to their customers. We have two trouble spots, one in Bay St. Louis and the other in Waveland. The majority of the bulbs being shot out are the long life kind and get very expensive in exchanging so often."

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams reports, "Our department is doing some extra patrolling and feel it may be teenagers involved as the curfew is being enforced."

Donald Dorn, Waveland police chief, commented Wednesday, "We think there are those who know who is shooting out of the lights. The only way an officer can arrest someone is to see him doing it themselves or have a witness sign a warrant."

The two police chiefs were in agreement saying that the public can be of help by calling the police when they see someone suspicious looking or doing something which is wrong.

Gibson said, "Several times we have replaced bulbs which were shot out and the next day get a call on the same light by someone wondering when we were going to fix it, yet it was already replaced and destroyed in one night."

monies.

After the public was allowed to return to the room, Board President Virginia Gex said no action had been taken and the docket was approved.

Later in the meeting, again at Turcotte's request, the Board retreated into executive session to discuss reappointment of school administrators.

Bay School Superintendent J. D. McCullough recommended administrators for the 1979-80 school year, and shortly afterwards the Board went into a 30-minute secret meeting.

McCullough said Tuesday that the Board "has the right" to go into executive session after a recommendation on personnel appointments.

"Anytime I recommend as many administrators as I did last night, the Board has the prerogative to ask for executive session," McCullough explained Tuesday.

Upon conclusion of its closed meeting, the Board approved the superintendent's recommendations for administrators. They are:

Donald Caldwell, assistant superintendent; Robert Magee, Senior High principal; Frank Ladner, Senior High assistant principal; W.J. Cameron, Junior High principal; Roger James, Junior High assistant principal; Billy Sills, North Bay Elementary principal; James Baldree, Waveland Elementary principal; and Wilmer Seymour, athletic director.

The Board also approved recommended changes in its Personnel Policies and Procedures for the upcoming school year.

McCullough said the changes are recommended to him by a committee assigned to review the policies.

"I go over these recommendations and approve or disapprove them," the superintendent said.

Bay schools to purchase three buses

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District will purchase two 66-passenger buses and one 22-passenger "mini-bus" to replace one 10-year-old bus in its fleet and to start a new route in Shoreline Park.

The District's trustees Monday authorized Superintendent J. D. McCullough to advertise for bids on the three buses.

The small bus is to be used for band contests, athletic team transportation, and busing special education students.

The existing Shoreline Park route, serviced by a 66-passenger bus, presently includes 68 students, McCullough said.

The school system received three new buses in December after waiting months for delivery, during which time Pass Christian, Long Beach, and Hancock County school systems buses were borrowed to meet the Bay District's needs.

"We have a desperate need to continue to improve our fleet of school buses," McCullough said Monday.

"Last year we bused some 500 students, this year we are transporting 1,200 or 1,300," he continued.

"We have tried to repair bus No. Seven. Maintenance costs are over and beyond repairs," he added.

McCullough said the average life of a bus is 10 years, and added bus No. Seven is not worth repairing.

He said the other 66-passenger bus will be used to pick up students on a new route in Shoreline Park.

The superintendent explained that a 20-passenger bus will be an asset to the school system.

"When we have eight or ten band students qualify for competition in Jackson, we usually have to borrow cars to take the students up there," McCullough said.

"Sometimes we need to run small groups of special education children from here to there... we can use the new small bus for the baseball team, also," he added.

Assistant Superintendent Donald Caldwell said bus No. Seven was costing 75 cents-per-mile to keep in operation, not including gas costs.

Local minister plans County jail program

By RICH ADAMS

Rev. John Foy, minister of Bay St. Louis' First Presbyterian Church on Ullman Ave., said he has plans to expand that church's kindergarten, worship seminary, and hopes to become involved in "prison ministry" at the Hancock County Jail.

Foy became minister at the church Jan. 1, after moving from Cameron, North Carolina where he was minister of Cameron Hill First Presbyterian Church.

He said he had been involved in prison work in North Carolina, and hopes to continue the practice in Hancock County.

"I have worked both with individual prisoners and groups," Foy said Monday.

"In North Carolina, I visited and preached to them and took them on trips. I am not sure what I will do here, but I hope to get together with local ministers and begin work here," he added.

In addition to the prison work, Foy hopes to expand the existing sanctuary building to accommodate a growing congregation.

He said weekly attendance presently averages 100 worshippers, and foresees that number to expand.

He also plans to expand the church's kindergarten program.

Foy, a native of Florida, graduated from North Carolina State University and received seminary training at Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Georgia.

Foy is married to the former Geraldine Abernathy of Austelle, Georgia. They have three children, Andrew, 7; Ericella, 6; and Matthew, 2.

Editorial

Let's be fair about it!

We'll show openers before we draw here and make it perfectly clear that we are in full support of stringent traffic law enforcement practices, especially when it comes to speeding and driving under the influence.

We will even go so far as to express support of the federal administration's re-emphasis of the 55 mph highway speed limits.

But let's be fair about it - there exists a situation on Beach Boulevard near the Bay-Waveland city limits that amounts to a speed trap.

Those city limits themselves are unmarked as they cross Beach Boulevard.

The motorist approaching Bay St. Louis from Waveland sees a Waveland 35 mph speed limit sign just before he crosses those unmarked city limits and unwittingly enters the non-posted speed limit of Bay St. Louis.

Not until he passes Christ Episcopal Church and Day School does he see any indication of a change in the speed limit, that being a school speed zone sign not in effect at odd hours and on weekends.

The first indication the motorist gets that he is in a reduced speed zone comes after he passes Citizen-Street and is approaching Washington St. where a 25 mph speed limit sign is posted in the middle of that block.

That sign is inadequate not only in its placement but also in its wording in that the first such sign in Bay St. Louis should indicate 'Leaving 35 mph zone - Entering 25 mph zone.'

But in many cases it is too late, he has already been clocked by radar, frequently from a virtually unmarked police car.

Without the deterrents of adequately marked speed zones and clearly visible police units, many local motorists are unwittingly breaking the traffic laws in that area, and getting caught at it.

In addition, the beachfront will soon be crowded with visitors for the annual Spring Pilgrimage who need to know what city they are in and how fast they can go.

And our normal hoards of spring and summer residents and tourists who are soon to follow also deserve fair treatment under our laws.

Lynchburg, Va., Thurs., Feb. 8, 1979

Powell Glass Jr.

Powell Glass Jr. died Tuesday at the age of 61. It was a quiet ending to a life marked by distinguished achievements in many fields—in military service to his country in two wars, in academics, in civic and humanitarian causes, and in the editing and publishing of newspapers.

He was an American patriot, who suited actions to his sentiments. In World War II he survived the sinking of two Navy ships, and in the Korean war he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Marine Corps. He loved his country and he served it well. In war and in peace.

He was a brilliant student with a singular grasp of politics, economics, philosophy, history and the law, having attended the universities of Virginia, Washington & Lee, and Pennsylvania, and the London School of Economics. He was a member of several of the highest literary and professional societies. He served as an associate professor of law at Mercer University in Macon, Ga.

He never escaped, however, from the world of the press into which he had been born. His grandfather, the late, U.S. Senator Carter Glass, founded the Lynchburg newspapers, and his father served as their general manager. The papers were part of his life as a youth, and he served them later as a fiscal partner, assistant managing partner and copublisher, and, from 1969 until shortly before his death, as president of Carter Glass & Sons, Publishers, Inc., and as publisher of The News and The Daily Advance. For several years, he was the owner, publisher and editor of a weekly newspaper in Bay St. Louis, Miss., where he won recognition for his editorials and general service to the community. He led a courageous battle to reapportion the county board of supervisors in that area, and he perserved despite threats and violence. He was outmatched only by Hurricane Camille, which destroyed his home, along with much of that coastal area.

He returned to these newspapers in 1969 as editorial director and assumed the duties of general manager several months later. His latest, and last, tenure was marked by the building of the papers' new plant and by the purchase of three additional papers—a daily and two weeklies.

He was one of those rare individuals who, although born into an affluent and famous family, was equally at home in all walks of life. He could talk to anyone and he never talked up or down. He came to you straight, you knew where you stood with him. He had a quick, perceptive sense of humor and he loved a good laugh. He was also blessed with the capacity for indignation, and was quickly aroused by the foibles of man, by injury and injustice and wrongdoing. And he had the courage to confront them.

These few, feeble words cannot begin to catch the charisma of the man. He was tempestuous, and endearing; tough, and charming. The possessor of a fierce intelligence, and easily moved to tears. A very human man, but no ordinary man. One of a kind.

In recent years he was wracked with illness that would have prostrated lesser men but he carried on despite obvious pain, and it would have been unthinkable to him to have complained.

Now he is gone, but the memories remain. There was much to remember because he was a memorable man. And it was fitting that when his world stopped, it stopped in the city in which he was born, and to which he returned after a life spent on battlefields, in classrooms and newsrooms.

The Stennis report

Senator John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) has called for a move to a new type of selective service to replace the all-volunteer military force which he said is the "weakest link" in national defense.

"We are simply not getting manpower in the numbers and with the quality that the military requirements of this nation demand," Stennis said in a statement on the Senate floor. "I am forced to the conclusion that the all-volunteer concept has failed its test and has proved not to be the answer to either our peacetime or our wartime military manpower requirements. I believe that the time has come to end the experiment."

The Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman said the inability to produce sufficient manpower during wartime is perhaps the volunteer army's most serious problem.

"The absence of the machinery for registration and selection which would be provided by selective service means that we have no means for mobilizing rapidly the millions of persons we would need in the event of a wide scale war. Many, many valuable months would be lost in gearing up, calling and training the necessary personnel."

Stennis also listed the Army's difficulty in meeting recruiting quotas and growing concern over the quality of enlisted forces as evidence that the all-volunteer concept is not working.

"We must look at it in terms of recruiting the necessary numbers, and equally important, getting the needed quality of recruits and matching needed skills," he said. "I would like to stress that being a member of the military service is not merely a job. It is much more than that. It is serving the country in a mission which is and will continue to be vital to our national security."

Stennis said the Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, the National Guard and other reserve components are finding it increasingly difficult to meet enlistment quotas.

He also said a lack of discipline is a continuing problem and the retention of trained and skilled personnel by reenlistment is not at satisfactory levels.

"Of course, in comparison with the selective service system, the all-volunteer system is tremendously costly," Stennis said. "If it was an unqualified success it might be worth the money, but not so under the existing circumstances."

Stennis said that to be able to perform its prescribed role, the nation's military forces must be manned "with sufficient quality soldiers who have the requisite qualities, skills, vigor, motivation and discipline to serve their country honorably and effectively in peace and in war. This is not true under the all-volunteer concept."

The Mississippi Senator noted that the need for selective service is not generally understood or recognized by the American public and called for hearings to develop the facts and explore all possible alternatives.

"I believe we should proceed to a full and complete study and examination of this very serious problem just as soon as possible," he said. "I see a need to be innovative and to search for new procedures in this field rather than merely returning to the old systems which have been tried and found wanting."

LETTERS

To The Editor

Which protocol was violated?

Sunday, February 11, 1979

Bay St. Louis, Miss.
To the teachers of North Bay Elementary,

In order to clear up an obvious misunderstanding of the facts surrounding the recent issue at North Bay Elementary regarding the "Talent Show" for the OLG Carnival Ball Association, we are writing this letter in a spirit of co-operation to hopefully put this issue to rest in the right way with everyone knowing the actual circumstances.

We, as parents, do object to our children participating in an event during school hours which had nothing to do with their education. And we cling to this right - now and in the future.

The obvious misunderstanding is that you teachers are unaware of Mr. Silis being the first person contacted regarding this matter. We did not know at first just how to handle this delicate matter of church and state, but decided to follow Board Policy No. 18 as we have with other matters in the past.

Mr. Silis was contacted Monday morning, January 29, at 10 a.m. and questioned about the talent show by a parent. He assured this parent that the show would not take place at North Bay, nor would the auditions, as stated in the note that was sent home with each child.

According to Mr. Silis, both auditions and the show itself would be held at the OLG Gym. We considered the matter resolved since we had completed the first step of Policy 18 by contacting our principal.

It was not until Wednesday, January 31, when our children came home, talking (as innocent children will do) about the auditions.

It was not until then that we felt further steps had to be taken.

As Policy 18 further states, if satisfaction is not accomplished in the first step with the principal, the Superintendent can be contacted to resolve the matter.

Therefore, Mr. McCullough was not violating protocol when he did not refer the Mayor and parents who were calling him to the principal, for the principal had actually been contacted two days before. Policy 18 was carried out exactly as it should have been.

May we respectfully point out to you the actual reason for all of this controversy - it was indeed a breach of protocol and a violation of Board Policy No. 15, which you will find attached to this letter for future reference.

Our question is: Did the person or persons who came up with the idea of using our campus (not to mention our children) to raise money for a private profit-making organization first approach the School Board through Policy 18 for permission to side-step Policy 15?

Board Policy 15 states that only the Board of Trustees can decide what organizations will use the school facilities. It further states that all proceeds made on an event will go to the school and at no time will a private profit-making organization use the school.

So you are right in one way - protocol was violated, but not by the parents or superintendent.

And Board Policy was violated but not by the parents or superintendent. If this permission was granted by the Board, Mr. Silis never mentioned it when questioned.

And since there is no Board Policy at present that we know of to cover this last issue we would like to discuss notes sent home with the children to parents - may we make a cordial request - in the future, when a note is sent, please include all of the vital information such as the time the event will take place, the admission to be charged, if any, what the proceeds will go toward, and last, but not least, please have someone sign the note, either the chairman of the event or the teacher in charge so that parents having questions will know exactly whom to call.

We have a fine school, faculty and curriculum of which we are proud, and will always object to anything that does not complement them.

Please feel free to call any of us at any time if you have any further questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Summary of Policies of the Board of Trustees

Bay St. Louis
Public Schools

Policy No. 15

"The Board determines the policies and the manner and conditions and considerations in letting the school plant be used by agencies and organizations other than those that the regular program calls for. It has been the policy of the Board to allow its facilities to be used for community affairs provided no charges are made for same. If charges are made, the school must receive the benefits unless said funds are given to charitable organizations or to be used for something of a community nature and not for private benefits."

Teachers feel protocol violated

(Editor's note: In the following letter which appeared in this column last Sunday, an inadvertent typographical error in the fourth paragraph resulted in substitution of the word 'verified' for the intended 'rectified.' The Echo regrets this error.)

February 8, 1979

Dear Editor:

As teachers, we would like to respond to the article, "Parents object to school use in church related activities," which appeared in the February 4, 1979 edition of your paper.

According to the article there were objections to specific activities being conducted at North Bay Elementary School. We support the right of people to register their complaints, but feel that this should be done through the proper channels.

The Bay-Waveland School Board has established Policy No. 18, which outlines procedures for adjusting problems. This policy provides the person against whom a complaint is being made the opportunity of being first to attempt a resolution of the problem.

We believe, had the parents and the Mayor been referred by the Superintendent to the proper party, which in this case was the principal of North Bay Elementary School, the situation would have been rectified.

However, since this was not done, there was a clear violation of protocol which resulted in negative criticism of the principal, insulting remarks about the education being provided by teachers, and general adverse publicity for the school.

In the future we hope that problems will be solved within the framework that the School Board has established.

Seniors enjoyed Valentine party

February 11, 1979

Dear Editor: All of us Senior Citizens at the Day Care Center would like to take this opportunity to thank the Bay High Seniors for the nice Valentine Party and cards they gave us.

Also, the muffins and cheese cracker sandwiches were delicious. We also enjoyed the singing and chance numbers very much - they put happiness in our hearts.

Also thanks go out to Our Wonderful Staff.

God Bless all of them!

BEETHOVEN OPERA

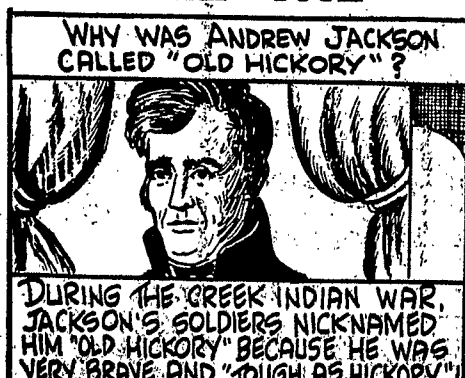

Leonard Bernstein conducts "Fidelio," Beethoven's only opera, on "Great Performances" at 7 p.m., Wednesday, February 21, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Soprano Gundula Janowitz sings the title role with the Vienna State Opera. Although Beethoven is regarded as one of the true dramatic musicians of all times, he wrote but one opera. "Fidelio" was the product of 10 years of dogged writing and rewriting. When first commissioned in 1804, Beethoven was eager to present musically his post-Revolutionary morality in a story of conjugal love that triumphs over the Reign of Terror.

Biloxi firm purchases Sheraton

Production Oil Corporation of Biloxi has purchased the Sheraton Biloxi Hotel, one of the major hotel properties on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

John R. and Jacqueline C. Neyrey, president and vice-president, respectively, of Production Oil, made the purchase announcement this week. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Under terms of the purchase agreement, Production Oil management will assume active operation of the hotel facilities May 1, 1978.

The Neyreys said that in the period to May 1, plans for extensive remodeling, renovation and redecorating would be finalized and implemented immediately after the new ownership takes over.

"No changes in hotel personnel are anticipated at this time," the announcement stated.

"After May 1, our dedication will be to total ownership involvement in the operation of the facility and it changes in personnel or other phases of operation are required to reach our goal of first quality hotel service such will be made," the Neyreys said.

"Second in priority only to the upgrading of the property will be an advertising and promotional campaign that will emphasize both the hotel and the Mississippi Gulf Coast," they added.

"Those efforts will be directed to attracting on a 12-month basis major conventions and trade shows, tourists in both the domestic and international markets, and specific business groups. Additionally, the facility will be developed to attract and accommodate the requirements of the Gulf Coast market," the new owners reported.

Production Oil located its general offices in Biloxi in 1976. While its primary operations have been petroleum related, it has also become increasingly involved in projects that favorably impact on the local economy.

Currently, Production Oil is constructing the $2 million Biloxi Fishermen's Harbor which is scheduled for completion in July, 1978.

When completed, the major portion of that development will be leased to the City for operation under a 25-year agreement.

Construction on Production Oil's $3 million home office building is scheduled to begin this year.

That nine-story structure will be located immediately adjacent to the Fisherman's Harbor project.

Additionally, Production Oil has acquired the Pop's Ferry Restaurant and property and other land tracts for future development.

Third Order sets Day of Recollection

The Third Order of Lay Carmelites met Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charline Martinelli with Mrs. Edmee Cagle offering the opening prayer and Mrs. Lillian Carver, president, conducting the business session.

Rev. Gerhard Vogel, SDV, director, spoke to the group on the gospel of the day. A news letter from Father John Michael Payne, O.C.D., Provincial Delegate of Oklahoma City, was read by the secretary and plans for a day of recollection to be held in the near future were discussed.

Vespers closed the meeting with Father Vogel as leader and Charles Braun of Biloxi as reader. A social hour followed with members and guests from Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Biloxi attending.

The next meeting will be March 11. SPELLING BEE Beth Martin, program coordinator for the Mississippi Division of the American Cancer Society has announced deadline for school participation in the Society's statewide Spelling Bee has been extended to Feb. 16.

Religious instructions for the Confirmation group will be held Sunday, February 18, after 9:15 a.m. Mass, according to Sister Mary Corneille, parish religious coordinator.

Religious instructions for grades first through fourth will be held Tuesday, February 20, in parish hall immediately after school and for grades fifth through eighth Thursday, February 22, after school.

King Griffin, Queen Hunter rule BWYC's Mystic Carnival Ball

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club presented its fifth anniversary Mystic Carnival Ball Saturday, Feb. 10, at 8:00 P.M. at the Club on North Beach

Boulevard in Bay St. Louis. His Majesty, the Hon. J. Ruble Griffin, reigned as King of the Mystic Carnival Ball with Her Majesty Mrs. M. E. (Barbara) Hunter.

Maids of Honor were Mesdames Eleanor McCandless, Margaret Otis, Helen Clay, Helen O'Connor, Bobbie Goodell and Marguerite Robertson.

The Dukes were Mr. Harmon Turan, Col. T. M. Stephens, Mr. D. Joy Burnett, Col. Randolph Bourgeois, Mr. Robert O'Connor and Dr. Matthew Hunter.

In celebration of the Club's fifth anniversary, the past Kings and Queens were presented to the 1979 Court to toast Their Majesties.

Past Kings and Queens were William Hilliker and Marion Whittington, Marie Gordon escorted by Rear-Commodore Maurice Eagan, John Holmes escorted by Captain Verna Brennan, and Tim Lasseligne and Shelby Fletcher.

Commodore Lucien Gex served as general chairman of the Ball; Vice-Commodore Charles Breath III was court chairman and Rear-Commodore Maurice Eagan, Richard Shadin and Walter Gehrke were vice-chairmen.

Col. Randolph Bourgeois was chairman of the reception committee and receiving were Mesdames Nancy Gex, Ellen Breath, Marion Eagan, Margaret Shadin and Martha Gehrke.

Chairman of this event was Terry Bourgeois, assisted by Mrs. Phoebe Baxter, Captain Verna Brennan and Bobbie Goodell, co-captain.

St. Ann's

Masquerade

slated Sat.

The St. Ann's Carnival Association will stage its fifth annual ball and masquerade dance from 8 p.m. until midnight Saturday in the Parish Hall on Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor.

Tickets at $4 per person are available at Ladner's or from association members.

Bo and Dee will provide music for general dancing following the pageant.

The celebration was conceived as a fund raising event for the parish in 1974, and continues with parish support as its principal goal, an association spokesman reports.

Friday, Feb. 16 - A real IRISH COFFEE at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marengo, 408 Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis from 2 to 6 p.m. Come join us!

PARADE DEADLINE

Deadline to enter units in the St. Paul's Carnival Association 'Parade' in Pass Christian is Friday. For information, contact George Mixon, 452-9715.

'Sailors Through The Ages' is theme of the parade slated for 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 25.

The association's annual ball will be at 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 24.

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Augrain returned Sunday from a week's Caribbean cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Harmon of Brownsville, Tex., visited over the weekend with his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Byron Favre.

Officer Alvin Favre of the Bay St. Louis Police Department is a patient at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Auction of a signed lithograph of the Paul Bannister painting 'The Silver Bell' will highlight final day's activities of the Myrt and Mike Haas royalty team of the OLG Carnival Association Saturday.

An 'All-Day Carnival Fair' will be staged by the team Saturday at the OLG cafeteria, with auction of the lithograph and other items slated for 3 p.m.

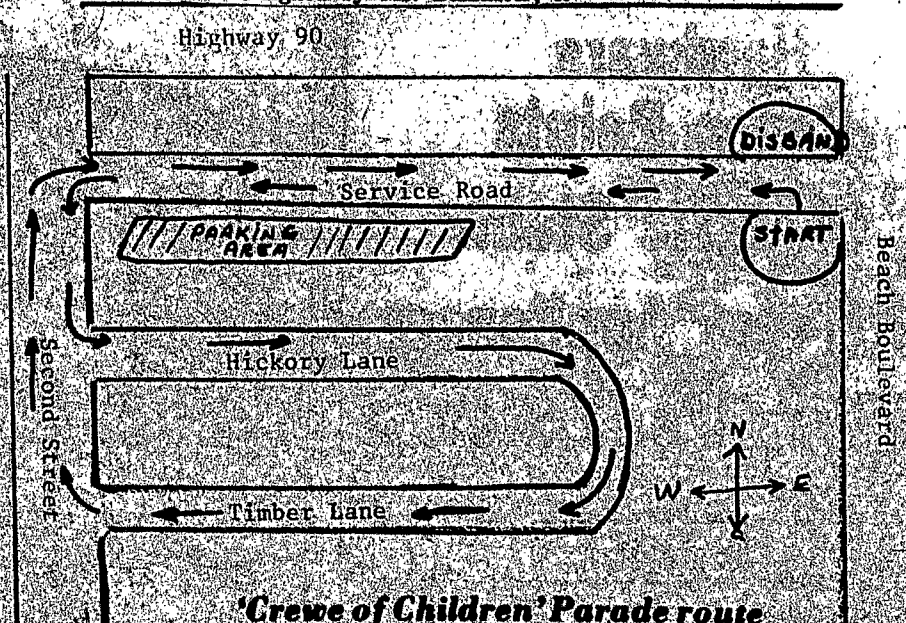

"The team is very grateful to Glynn and Paul Bannister for their donation of this most beautiful lithograph of Paul's most famous and admired painting," said King candidate Mike Haas.

Queen candidate Myrt Haas said, "I am elated at this rare gift from the area's most famous artist."

"In view of the value of the lithograph, No. 113 of 200 and signed by Ms. Bannister, it will be necessary to reserve the right to reject all bids," said team captain Charles Carter.

However, the print definitely will be sold, either by auction or negotiated private sale," Carter added.

The print is on display this week at the US-90 branch of Hancock Bank in Bay St. Louis, according to branch manager James Glynn.

'CREWE OF CHILDREN' - A neighborhood Mardi Gras parade will be staged Saturday starting at 1 p.m. by the Crewe of Children. Special parking restrictions will be in effect along the parade route for protection of the marchers.

Slidell shipyard launches unique dredge vessel

Southern Shipbuilding Corporation of Slidell Saturday launched the second split hull, self-propelled hopper dredge to be built in the United States. Constructed for Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company of Oak Brook, Ill., the 281-foot long 'Sugar Island' is capable of dredging to a depth of 70 feet.

The Sugar Island is a sister ship to the Manhattan Island and the first such vessel ever built, also owned by Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company and fabricated by Southern Shipbuilding.

"In her first year of operations the Manhattan Island has proven her ability to substantially assist the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in its maintenance dredging work load in the harbors and waterways of the nation," said Frederick R. Hazard, vice president and general manager of the dredging company.

The ship is 281 feet long, with a loaded draft of 195 feet and a light draft of 95 feet.

The total installed horsepower is 6750 operating for 14 days without refueling. It cruises at 12.5 knots light and 11.5 knots loaded. The vessel can dredge to a depth of 70 feet.

The Sugar Island incorporates the latest marine design features and has been built to meet or exceed all the requirements of the U.S. Coast Guard, the American Bureau of Shipping, the U.S. Public Health Service, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, according to John A. Downs, Great Lakes president. It has been licensed for use on all the oceans of the world, he said.

The ship has a split hull made up of two longitudinal half sections hinged together at the deck and a carrying capacity of 3,700 cubic yards.

The Sugar Island is outfitted with the latest in safety and navigational gear and is certified by the U.S. Coast Guard for unlimited ocean service.

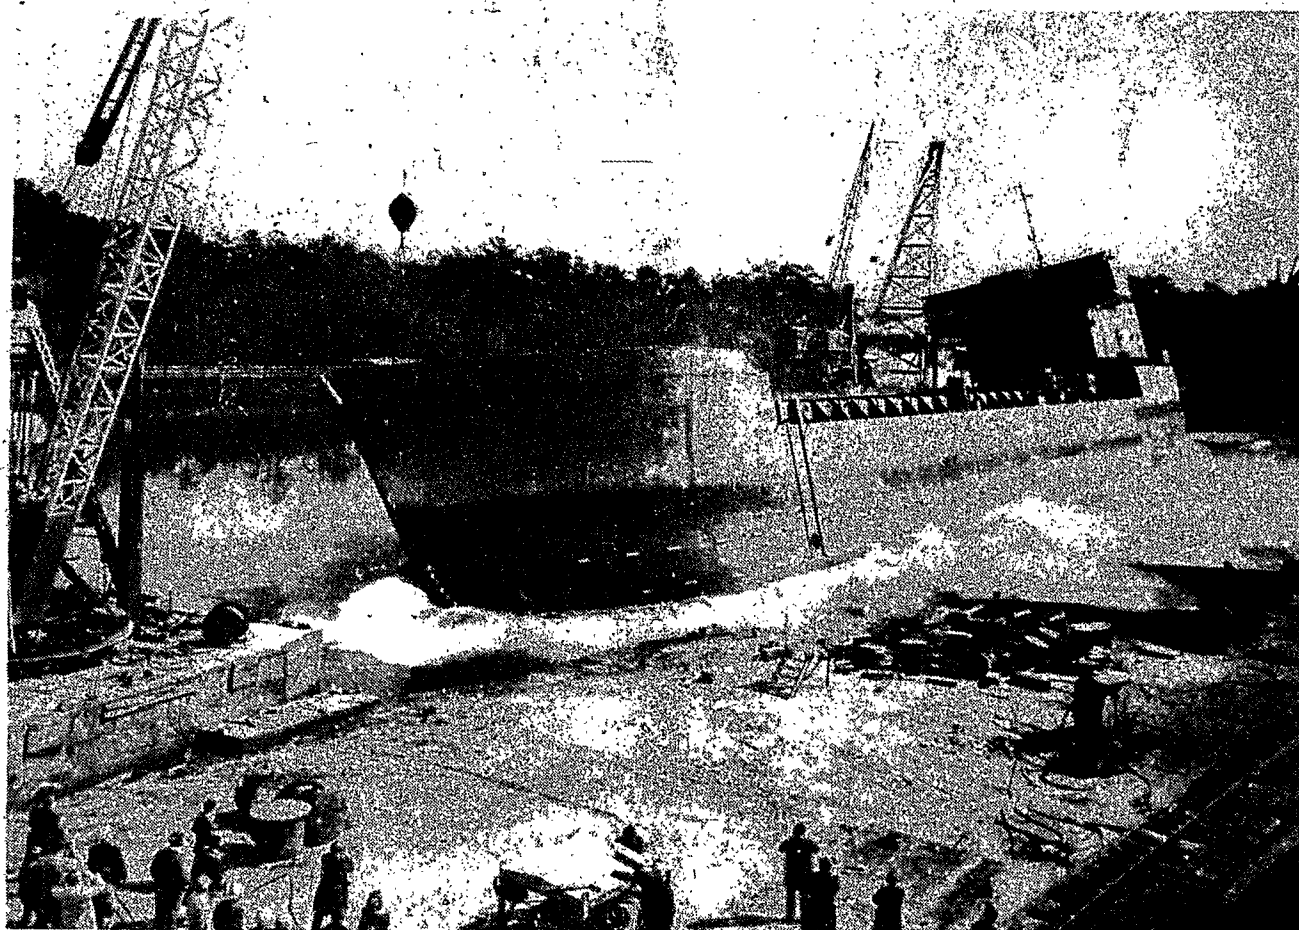

To insure maximum seaworthiness, it is designed to remain afloat when loaded, even if two adjacent watertight compartments are flooded.

Like her sister ship, Sugar Island will be used on projects to improve and maintain America's coastal and inland waterways.

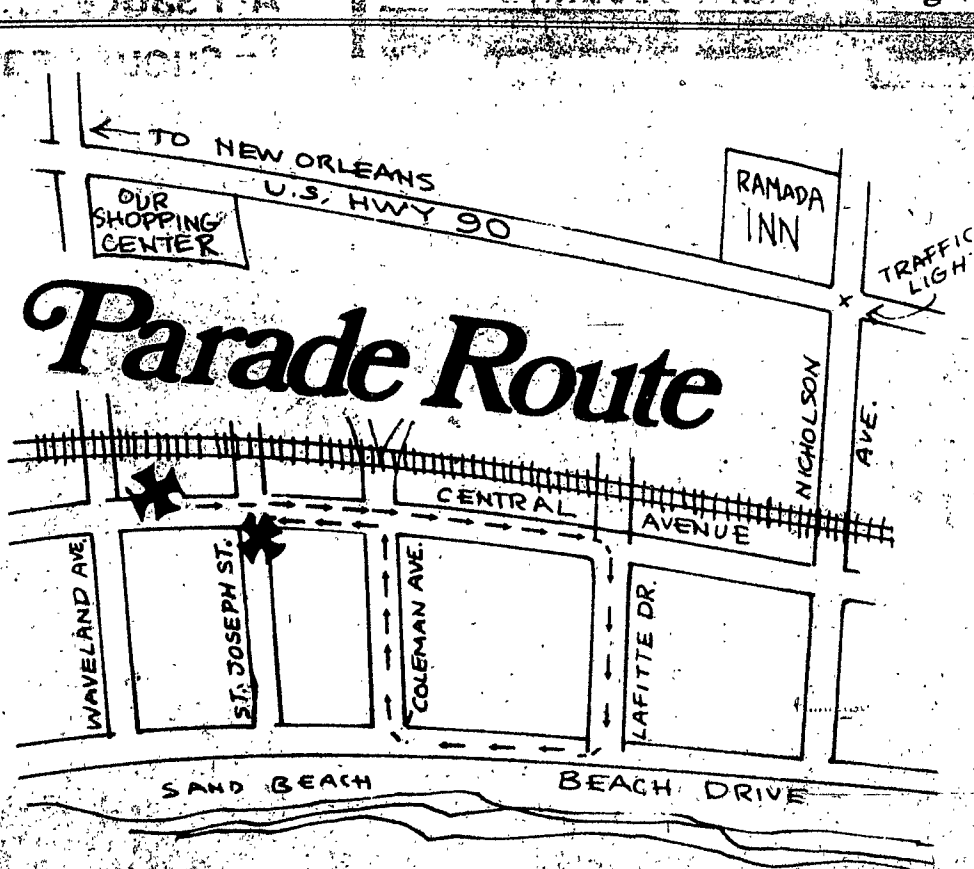

Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company now has a hopper dredge capability equivalent to more than 50 percent of that of the Corps of Engineers.

Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company is the largest dredging contractor in the Western hemisphere, and one of the largest in the world.

In addition to the corporate headquarters in Oak Brook, the company maintains offices in Union, N.J.; Staten Island, N.Y.; Towson, Md.; Tampa, Fla.; New Orleans and Morgan City, La., and Oakland, Calif.

MISSISSIPPI'S PANAMA CANAL

By Ed Blake
AG-Affairs

Mississippi's long dreamed of waterway project across the ceiling of northeast Mississippi to connect the waterways of mid-continent U.S.A. with the Gulf of Mexico is rapidly taking shape with a remarkable resemblance in scope to the Panama Canal, in awesomeness to the Grand Canyon, and in promise to Europe's famed Rhine River.

Critics to the contrary, the spectacular waterway is ushering into the already scenic northeast hill country the reality of economic and recreational progress while being a harbinger of an exciting new chain of ecology that predictably might measure up far better than past systems in worth to humankind.

This writer visited the developing waterway system last week, interviewed the project engineers and toured the system from one end to the other on his own and with assistance of a local guide, Roy Lovelace, whose home place near the community of Paden has been "rent asunder" by the project. His parents now in their eighties hope to live to the targeted date of 1988 and see the diesel powered ships and barges raised or lowered 84 feet at the near record high Bay Springs lock in their community.

Roughly the project amounts to this. The Tennessee-Ohio river systems will be connected to the Tombigbee-Warrior river systems with an outlet to the sea at Mobile. This will bring the lower cost of water transportation to both inland and trans-ocean shipping of mid-America and develop new industrial and recreational activities in the region. For Mississippi in particular it will greatly help to bring a highly stenic and potentially dynamic area of the state into the mainstream of modern development.

Unfortunately too much public communication concerning the project in the past has accented claims of discreditors. The Army Corps of Engineers, Nashville district, responsible for the design and administration of its construction, appropriately have not assumed a chamber of commerce stance regarding the project. Members of Congress traditionally have handled public announcements.

The Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation long has endorsed the project because of anticipated economic benefits to the state. Farmers, more dependent on international trade and internal movement of goods and services than most professionals, see the waterway as reduced transportation costs for the raw materials and equipment - often voluminous and heavy - that they must bring into the state, and also for the grain and logs and cotton that they send on to processing plants or customers in all parts of the world.

Graphically the excavation for the waterway is proceeding southward from Pickwick Lake on the Tennessee River. The new concrete overhead bridge on Highway 25 just south of the lake is completed and in use. From that vantage point one can see the virtually completed 300 foot wide channel to the south. Cranes were rapping the lower embankments last week. Yellow Creek flowed alongside the new channel.

Farther south of Highway 72, connecting Corinth and Iuka, traffic is flowing normally beside a half completed new four-lane bridge over the waterway. Four miles farther south from Burnsville the Corps engineers administer the project from a new office facility - a modest, one floor wooden office complex that will be a landing on the waterway.

Here engineers explained to this writer the detailed progress from aerial photographs of the 44 mile stretch under their supervision. They explained that the 150 million cubic yards of materials that will have to be removed in making the cut through the northeast ridge is comparable to the material moved in the building of the Panama Canal. In the 4,900 acre right-of-way through Mississippi, the excess earth has been used to fill hollows in 48 separate disposal areas which are being planted and returned to a natural state. Some of the high ridge fills will create very useful areas for various recreational purposes. And while some habitats certainly will be altered, the new versions hold promise of being better than the old.

A ten-mile section of railroad has been slightly relocated with a new bed, ties, and track in what must be the best section of railroad in the country. This writer and his guide donned boots to descend mud-clogged Ridge Road into the Falker Gap area where the railroad penetrated this ridge country in the early 1900's. The views of the new channel through the ridge was awesome with tapered banks dropping hundreds of feet to blend in to the new geography.

A new bridge is complete nearby on Highway 30. Reaching the span after darkness, the lights of the community of Paden twinkled on the east bank of the yawning crevasse as guide Lovelace pointed with enthusiasm to the exciting changes to his home community.

Nearby work is underway on the Bay Springs lock and dam where in the future visitors from far and wide will stand on promontories to witness the technological wonder of huge vessels climbing or descending vertically 84 feet as gates are opened and closed on one of the highest locks in the United States on this new mid-American marvel - the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

The Army engineers feel that at the present rate of progress they will deliver the big project before the 1988 target date for completion, and they are gratified that already new industry locating along the waterway has exceeded projections.

ASCS Hancock-Pearl River

WHEAT, FEED SIGNUP

"Starting Feb. 15, we will begin accepting intentions to participate in the 1979 feed grain and wheat program," Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River - Hancock County ASCS office, said.

All farmers planting feed grain and wheat for harvest in 1979 are eligible to participate. As in 1978, program participation is voluntary. However, farmers must file their intentions to participate during the signup period to be eligible for program benefits. "These benefits include price support loans on all eligible commodities produced, deficiency and disaster payment for barley, corn, sorghum, wheat or upland cotton on the participating farm, Gennin noted.

Farmers who participate are also eligible to use the grain reserve when it is open. Provisions of the corn and sorghum program include a 10 percent set-aside and a 10 percent diversion.

The wheat and barley programs contain a 20 percent set-aside requirement, Gennin said.

Farmers may sign up for voluntary diversion payments on corn and sorghum.

However, no advance voluntary diversion payments will be made for the 1979 crops.

Program participants help to prevent an excessive buildup of wheat and feed grain stocks. ASCS will accept applications for the 1979 program until April 16.

USE PRODUCER SERVICES

To avoid unnecessary worry about the loss of 1979 farm program benefits, ASCS advises farmers to use early measurement and other producer services.

"At the request of the producers, we will measure acreages prior to crop planting time," Gennin said.

Producer services provided by ASCS include measurement of set-aside land, field or subdivisions to be planted; total cropland, and land areas for other purposes. "Fees vary, based on type of service rendered," he noted.

The services are guaranteed for the program year in which they are taken. A fee is charged for this service based on the number of acres to be measured. According to Gennin, producers who take advantage of measurement services are guaranteed the acreage in the area measured. "This is important in helping them to plan which fields to plant and which to set aside."

The ASCS official encourages farmers to use

RECORD CORN YIELD - Leigh Ann Jones, 15, of Walnut, produced a new Mississippi state record corn crop yielding 304.49 bushels per acre during the 1978 growing season. She is the first female grower to produce a corn yield in excess of 300 bushels per acre. She is also the youngest person to produce a 300-bushel yield. She is the only FFA member anywhere in the U.S. to produce a yield that surpassed a record set by Lamar Ratliff of Baldwin, Mississippi, of 304.38 bushels in 1955. And she joins an elite group of individuals who account for the only 12 known corn yields to exceed the 300-bushel mark.

homemakers aids

Mrs. Norine Barnes of Biloxi, area consumer management specialist, presented a program on budgeting; and Miss Jewel McGinty, program extension specialist for homemakers clubs, Mississippi State University, conducted a training program for club officers and chairpersons prior to the Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council meeting Thursday afternoon, February 8, in extension auditorium.

Mrs. Tuleter Oliver, Council president, conducted the business session.

Plans for a doll show to be held March 9 and 10 in extension auditorium were discussed. Busy Fingers Extension Homemakers Club hosted the social hour. The next meeting will be at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, March 1, in the auditorium.

Forester advises pruning

"Trees are usually pruned during the winter months. Do your lawn trees need this kind of care?" asks Hancock County Forester Rand Riedrich.

When pruning limbs from the main trunk, the final cut should be flush with the main trunk leaving no stub. An asphalt base paint (roofing cement) should be applied on exposed wood.

"This paint should not be applied over the bark area since the healing tissue grows from the area between the wood and the bark. If the wound is not painted, rot and other diseases have an open-door invitation," Riedrich reminds.

Topping and "dehorning" trees is usually more detrimental than beneficial. These wounds are slow to callus over and the asphalt base paint usually weathers off or sloughs off before complete healing.

Decay and insect problems usually arise from this type treatment of trees, the forester warned.

Call Riedrich, an agent of the Mississippi Forestry Commission for information concerning pruning and other tree care advice.

County agent plans gardening programs

John Smith, county agent, said three educational programs will be presented for Hancock County gardeners.

The programs, planned jointly with John Davis, area horticulture specialist, Cooperative Extension Service, will give gardeners tips on planning and planting home vegetable gardens. Insect and disease problems common to the area will also be discussed, Smith said.

The programs, their times and locations are:

-February 20, 7 p.m., Pearlitting School;

-February 21, 7 p.m., Extension Auditorium, Bay St. Louis;

-February 22, 7 p.m., North Hancock Central School.

"The public is invited and encouraged to bring a friend to these free educational programs," the county agent reported.

I'd like to suggest a convenient way to pay your telephone bill. It's called the Bank Draft Plan. All you have to do is complete an authorization card and mail it with your next payment. This will end future check writing to us! This card authorizes us to send your bank a draft each month in the amount of your bill. The bank will deduct the amount and send you a record with your cancelled checks. You'll receive a bill marked "Paid." We're looking for ways to serve you better and this might be an added convenience. Bank authorization cards are available through our Business Office.

Dupont plans TO2 pigment production in August

Construction is 75 percent complete and production should begin in August, 1979 at the $150 million Dupont titanium dioxide plant in DeLisle.

Plant Manager G.B. Howell and Assistant Manager Larry E. Kniffen said Monday August is the target date for full operation at the DeLisle plant.

"In full operation the plant should produce 150,000 tons per year of titanium dioxide, which is used to produce pigments and dyes," said Kniffen.

Roughly 25 percent of the pigments will be used in the plastics industry, 25 percent in paper pigments and 50 percent in paints.

Furthermore, approximately 500 people will be employed when the plant reaches full operation.

Of these, 120 are to be plant staff engineers, supervisors, chemists, accounts, etc. Twenty Mississippians of the 120 top echelon employees were trained by Dupont to be supervisors in the Company, stated the assistant manager.

The managers said they plan to employ 400 Mississippians by the time the plant is fully operational. Kniffen said 125 of the 400 are already hired as maintenance technicians.

"Training is presently underway at various Mississippi colleges and vocational-technical schools for other local employees who will work at the plant," said Kniffen.

The company's organizational chart includes manager, assistant manager and five superintendent positions.

The superintendent positions are separated into the offices of production, safety, health and environmental, employee relations, research, development and mechanical.

Creation of the titanium dioxide will begin with receiving a shipment of black beach sand called Ilmenite from Australia at the Gulfport Harbor.

The sand or ore will then be taken by rail to the Dupont plant where it will be processed into titanium dioxide.

Kniffen said the impact of Dupont's process on the environment has been questioned several times by Save the Bay.

Save the Bay has complained about effects of discharge from the plant, Dupont's deep well injection method and possible exhaustion of well water.

Discharge from the plant results from using fresh water from underground wells to wash off and neutralize pigments.

ment in the final stage of the process.

After the pigment is washed, a stream of salty water and other trace elements occurs which is discharged into the Bay of St. Louis, said the assistant manager. He added the trace elements will not exceed the quantity in which they are already found in the Bay.

"Approximately 3.25 cubic feet per second of this salt water will be expelled into the Bay during the process of making the pigment," Kniffen explained.

Kniffen added, "We're basically putting back what is already in the Bay and later the salt water and the other trace elements get completely lost in the Bay."

Kniffen recalled there had been complaints that Dupont might dry up local wells by using too much water to wash and neutralize the pigments in the final stage.

The DeLisle plant will use two million gallons of fresh water per day when it becomes fully operational.

The water will come from two underground wells 1,600 to 1,800 feet below the surface called aquifers.

"A U.S. geological survey was taken concerning the availability of ground water in the area," said Kniffen, "and the survey found availability of ground water in the foreseeable future, plentiful."

Kniffen added an 18 hole golf course uses about two million gallons of water per day everytime the course is watered.

Kniffen stated a deep well injection method will be used for disposing of a waste called ferric chlorates, commonly referred to as iron salts.

"We drilled a hole two miles down to dump these iron wastes into," said Kniffen.

"Inside the hole is first a layer of steel casing then a layer of acid proof cement and then a tube within a tube designed to prevent wastes from escaping and entering into an underground stream," he continued.

Kniffen said at the bottom of the tube the waste is pumped into porous sand stone.

Kniffen said the DeLisle chemical company has developed an aesthetic problem. "The plant can now be seen from the Bay," he explained.

The company is now planting 10,000 slash pines to prevent the industrial complex from being seen from the Bay to solve this aesthetic problem.

The plant covers 2,200 acres, but only 200 acres is used for the manufacturing site—the other acreage acts as a buffer zone. Kniffen said this was done so Dupont could create its own environment around the plant and isolate the plant from the community.

"We have found that our plants which were isolated or buffered from comunities have been the most successful," emphasized the assistant manager.

Dupont is also conducting studies in the plant area on animal life, conditions in the Bay and contents of the air.

The plant is doing this as a precaution to defend itself against possible future allegations charging Dupont with harming the environment.

"After our studies are completed in these three areas we'll know exactly what the conditions are," explained Kniffen.

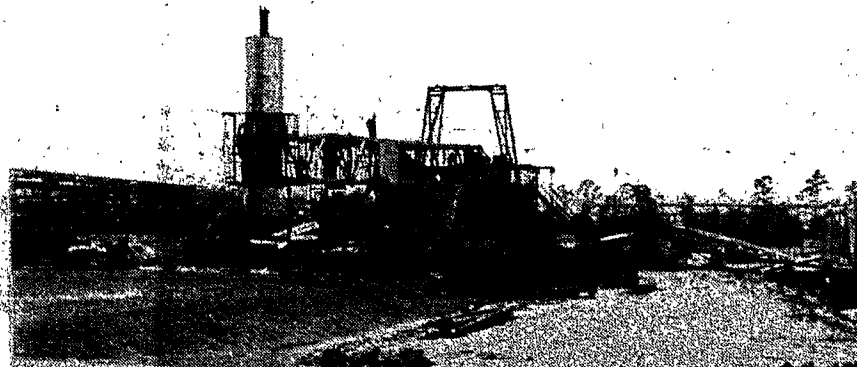

Both DeLisle's plant manager and assistant manager said they see no further expansion for the plant in the near future.

Hawks face awesome Morton in opening playoff contest

The Hancock North Central Hawks face defending state champions Morton in the South State Playoffs tonight at South East Lauderdale gymnasium.

Hancock has accumulated a 23-10 record this year and came in second in the District VIII Class A Tournament last week, being defeated by Stone County in the finals.

Morton, which claimed Class A's South Mississippi and state crowns last year, boasts a 32-3 win-loss record. "We want to be No. 1 this year, but we face the defending champions Thursday in our first game of the playoffs," HNC Head Coach Roland Ladner said Tuesday.

They (Morton) are a solid ballclub. Morton is fundamentally sound and they do a good job with everything...I don't know if you could say they have any weaknesses. I know their first five and their sixth man are not weak," he added.

Ladner said Tuesday that Morton is a "big team," with most of the cagers in the six-foot-plus category.

Ladner said Morton's five-foot-three Michael Kincaid is small, but added he can dunk the ball with both hands.

"I don't stuff the ball in a game, but with my height, I fool a lot of people on defense by jumping up to intercept passes," Kincaid said.

Senior Alan Dedeaux, known for canning 15-foot jump shots, will orchestrate the HNC game plan, with his average of 21.8 points per game.

Adding to the efforts of De-deaux are forward Moses Hill, center Steve Nunn, and guards Barry Arcement and Dean Shaw.

Hill leads the Hawks in rebounds with 208 for the season.

Nunn boasts 149 rebounds this year while Arcement is averaging 6.2 assists per game.

Arcement is noted for a 12.5 scoring average, and Shaw sports an 11.5 points per game. "At the beginning of the year we were working towards an inside game. We knew we couldn't depend on outside shooting all the time," Ladner said.

"Hill and Nunn were inexperienced at the onset of the season, but have come along and really helped us inside," he continued.

"Hill has been steady for us and should eventually be a terrific player...Nunn has been getting rebounds and we have also been getting some scoring out of him," Ladner added.

The Hawks face Morton tonight at 7 p.m. in Lauderdale, which is some eight miles east of Meridian.

SOUTH STATE PLAYOFFS BOY'S BRACKET

Hawkettes take district crown in come-from-behind victory

By RICH ADAMS
The Hancock North Central Hawkettes came from behind in the final three minutes of the District VIII Class A Finals to defeat the Pass Christian Lady Pirates and claim the crown in the girl's division Saturday, 40-36.

The HNC Hawks dropped the final game to the Stone County Tomcats in Brooklyn, Miss., 64-56.

The game was a rematch of the Bay High Tournament, in which the Hawkettes defeated the Lady Pirates by three points, 37-34.

"I'm glad we could pull a come from behind win," said Hawkette Head Coach Charlie Jacobs.

"We were down most of the game, but came back to win in the final three minutes of the game," he continued.

"It was a good final three minute team effort," Coach

Jacobs added.

Joye Lee was high scorer for the HNC lady cagers with 18 points, followed by Sheila Ladner's 10.

Sheila Ladner took the lead with 8 rebounds, aided by Shaynon Ladner's seven matches from the backboard.

Hawkette Shelly Dedeaux orchestrated the win with two assists.

The Hawks dropped the final game against the To-meats, losing 64-56 for the Class A title.

Head Coach Roland Ladner said his team was plagued with injuries, and was fortunate to go as far as they did. "I am real proud we were able to go that far with all our injuries," Ladner said.

Barry Arcement was out the first game with possible torn ligaments, and sophomore Zachary Ladner saw no action with a sprained ankle," he added.

Arcement was high scorer in the losing effort despite his condition.

"He's the type who would play with a broken neck," Ladner contended.

Arcement scored 16 points, aided by Alan Dedeaux with 14 and Steve Nunn, who netted 12 points.

Nunn pulled in eight rebounds to lead the Hawks in that field, and Arcement orchestrated six assists.

Coach Ladner's roundballer, face the defending state champion Morton in the South State Playoffs at South East Lauderdale High School near Meridian at 7 p.m. tonight.

According to Ladner, the three top teams from the playoffs will advance to state competition in Jackson in two weeks.

TOWING OTHER BOATS
Sooner or later, every boat owner is asked to tow some other craft.

Done skillfully, towing is simple and easy, often fun. Inspect your boat and decide where you'd affix a tow line. Transom eyes installed for towing water skiers are of course ideal for other towing. If you use a stern cleat, the MerCruiser stern drive boating authorities suggest that you check to see if it is installed with bolts, not screws, and that there is a generous doubler plate under the deck to distribute the pull into the boat's structure well.

World records at stake at SSC weightlift meet

The Brother Peter Memorial Gymnasium at St. Stanislaus will be the setting for the Mississippi State Power Meet Championships beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday.

According to SSC weightlifting coach Brother Bennett, world power lifting records are at stake.

The meet, sanctioned by the Southern Amateur Athletic Association, is sponsored by the SSC weightlifting club.

An expected 40 or 45 lifters from Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida and Texas will participate in attempts to set new world records, Brother Bennett said.

"Of particular interest this year will be two attempts at world records," Brother Bennett said.

"Four international judges will be in attendance to officiate these record attempts," he added.

The SSC coach said Joseph "Doc" Rhodes of Bay St. Louis will be one of the contenders, attempting to set another world record.

"Lifting in the 165-pound class, 'Doc' will strive to deadlift 700 pounds," Brother Bennett said.

Roger Gorumda, a businessman from New Orleans lifting in the 148-pound class will be attempting to set a world record bench press of 400-plus pounds," he added.

The SSC skipper said the meet will be a "split meet," with the lighter weight classes (123-165 pounds) lifting in the first session.

The 181-242 and super-heavyweight classes will be lifting in the second session.

"There will be a physique exhibition between the tow sessions by Louisiana bodybuilders," Brother Bennett said.

Admission to the event, which should conclude around 6 p.m., will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for grammar school children.

RULES

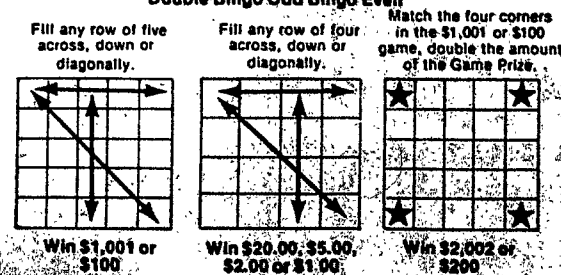

1. Get a FREE DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Master card on request at the end of the checkout or at store office. Get one FREE Game Ticket every time you visit a participating Jitney Jungle or affiliated food store. No purchase is required. Adults only eligible to play.
2. On each Game Ticket there are four, DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers. To reveal the Markers, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Ticket, then separate the punched out portions and you will have four Markers. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the games on your Master Game Card.
3. When you have revealed the DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Master Game Card. EXAMPLE: If one of your Markers is a V-210 in the $200 game, insert that Marker in the square marked V-210 in the $200 game. When you complete any row in a game, you may be a winner. Match the four corners only in the $1001 or $100 game and you may be a winner, doubling the amount of the game prize. See examples on this card. In some games, you will find squares marked FREE and it is unnecessary to collect a Marker to be placed in such free squares. Free squares are not transferable. One winner per card.
4. When turning in your winning card, all your DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers which are not a part of the winning row should be retained and transferred to a new card. Only one prize will be awarded per game on any one Master Game Card. All DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers, in a winning row, must be initialed on the back, in the space indicated, by the customer in the presence of authorized personnel. $5.00, $2.00, and $1.00 winners can be verified and redeemed by authorized store personnel. $1001.00, $100.00 and $20.00 or $2002 and $200 double winners must be sent to the sponsor for verification and redemption. All game material submitted for verification becomes the property of the game sponsor. When you have a winning card, which has been verified by authorized personnel, you will, after furnishing your name and address, be awarded your prize. A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that the names and addresses of all winners be posted in all participating stores. Tax liability on prizes is the responsibility of the prize winner.

5. All game materials will be rejected and judged void if not obtained from and verified by authorized personnel or if any part of any of the game pieces is illegible, altered, mutilated, defaced, tampered with, forged, contains printing or other errors, or is irregular in any way. Any attempt to forge game material or to defraud in any way will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Game materials void where taxed or prohibited by law.
6. Game will end upon distribution of all Game Tickets. All prizes must be claimed within five (5) days after announcement of termination or they are forfeited. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, as such times as the verified claims for prizes in any category equals the number of prizes advertised for that category, then the game, as it relates to the specific prize category, shall immediately terminate without notice, and any unverified claims at or after that time shall be automatically rejected.
7. Game materials valid only for this game. All Game Tickets, DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers and Game Cards must have the same series number. EXAMPLE: If you have Master Game Card Series #68, all of your game markers must have Series #68.
8. Employees (and their I.R.S. listed dependents) of the Jitney Jungle Stores of America, Inc., participating Jitney Jungle or affiliated food stores, Dansico Associates, their advertising agency, and any other companies engaged in the development and promotion of these game materials are not eligible to win.
9. DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Marker void if it does not have on it:
 - (a) DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN spelled out
 - (b) Bingo symbol spelled out
 - (c) Bingo symbol
 - (d) Value of game
 - (e) Safety pattern background
 - (f) Series #68

DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN GAME MARKERS ARE VOID IF THE ABOVE SIX (6) ITEMS ARE NOT CLEARLY VISIBLE.

10. DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Series #68 Markers must conform in size, shape, detail and must contain the six (6) items of authentication described in Rule No. 9.
